Who We Are

The Foundation's objective is to ensure the long term viability of our sustainable programs throughout the Himalaya. Our programs are in alignment with the UN Millennium Development goals that help to reduce poverty and address human rights – gender equality, child rights and the rights of marginalized groups in rural regions of the Himalaya.

Our Vision – Helping Himalayan Communities

Our vision is to help the people of the Himalaya achieve their goals.

We aim to do this by working with local communities in Nepal, India and Bhutan to improve:

- Education
- Health and Medical Services
- Environment and Wildlife Conservation

Who We Are

The Australian Himalayan Foundation is an international development organization founded 10 years ago in Australia. We are a not for profit aid agency, with tax deductibility status and with no political or religious affiliations. The Foundation is a Member of the Australian Council for International Development.

In 2012 the Foundation was granted AusAID accreditation which will provide a level of government funding in the future.

Supporting the Australian Himalayan Foundation

Over the past 40 years, thousands of Australians have visited the Himalaya. For many it is an opportunity to trek beneath the world's highest peaks and appreciate some of the world's most hospitable cultures.

Yet the Himalaya is not just an adventure playground. Although the lifestyles of the local communities may at first appear idyllic, for most it is anything but easy – with medical assistance, education and care for the environment often falling short of their needs.

The Foundation has focused on generating grassroots funding within Australia, while it has also established relationships with key donors who share our vision. Over the last five years we have been able to increase our level of support for our programs by 500%, thanks to the generosity and commitment of our donors.

The Foundation provides you with the means to help the Himalayan communities achieve their goals – and of giving something back.

The Foundation has comprehensive guidelines in place to clearly distinguish between development and welfare support.

Our Affiliates

The Foundation aspires to be one of the leading aid agencies in the Himalaya. It has forged relationships with key overseas aid agencies that share our vision. These include the Hillary Himalayan Trust in New Zealand, the Himalayan Trust (UK), the American Himalayan Foundation and the Sir Edmund Hillary Foundation (Canada). By working together our combined expertise will enable the Foundation to expand its programs, in particular to the impoverished districts of the Solu Khumbu region of Nepal where it conducts its flagship Teacher Training, Quality Education (TTOE) program. The Foundation also works closely with the Australian Embassy in Kathmandu jointly supporting a Cancer Screening and Education program that provides much needed health support in rural communities of Nepal.

Our Programs

The Australian Himalayan Foundation supports education, health and environmental programs in Nepal, the Indian Himalaya and Bhutan.

Zanskar Primary Health Care Program

Zanskar is one of the most isolated regions in the Indian Himalaya and records a chronically high rate of infant mortality. Since 2005 we have worked with the amchi, the traditional medical practitioners, holding workshops and training programs to improve health outcomes.

Program Partner: Servants of Society (S.O.S), Leh, Ladakh

Supporting Underprivileged Children to Attend School

Children in remote regions of Nepal have the greatest need for educational support. We provide underprivileged children, including dalit boys, with long-term scholarships to enable them to attend school.

Program Partner: Rural Health & Education Service Trust (RHEST), Nepal

Cancer Screening and Prevention Programs for Women

Cervical Cancer causes the highest incidence of cancer deaths among women in Nepal. We support cervical and breast screening and education workshops in a country where less than 5% of women have the opportunity to undertake checkups.

Program Partner: Nepal Network for Cancer Treatment & Research (NNTCR), Nepal

Saving Snow Leopards

Over the last seven years we have supported initiatives to protect the elusive and endangered snow leopard. Our current support focuses on an education and livelihood program in the Solu Khumbu region of Nepal.

Program Partner: Snow Leopard Conservancy (SLC), USA

Assisting Tibetans in Exile

We support Tibetan people living in exile in the Indian Himalaya with a number of projects including a cultural troupe in Kalimpong and vocational training for students attending school in Salagura in the Himalayan foothills.

Program Partner: Australian Tibetan Society (ATS)

Other Initiatives

Himalayan Art Awards

Managed by Margie Thomas, our acclaimed Himalayan Art Award aims to help emerging artists develop their creative medium. The awards are self-funding. The artists (currently selected from Nepal and Bhutan) commit to producing two works that are auctioned by the AHF to support further scholarships.

Schools for the Himalaya

Our Schools for the Himalaya program, which was established by Lincoln and Barbara Hall, is aligned to our Teacher Training – Quality Education program.

Schools in Australia are encouraged to raise funds for a 'cluster' of schools in Nepal to help improve basic facilities and educational resources. There are also opportunities for schools to visit the Solu Khumbu region, as Abbotsleigh School did in April 2012, and gain firsthand experience of the extent and effectiveness of our educational program.

LHASA

BHUTAN

Teacher Training – Quality Education

Our major initiative in the Solu Khumbu region of Nepal. Our 15-year program focuses on teacher training workshops that will ultimately impact on over 300 schools, 1,600 teachers and over 40,000 children.

Program Partner: Rural Education and Environment Development (REED), Nepal

Educational Support for Girls in Bhutan

We provide scholarships for young girls who would not otherwise be able to attend school in Bhutan. Our support is focused on one of the remote mountain districts where girls' education is still beyond the financial reach of many families.

Program Partner: Respect, Educate, Nurture & Empower Women (RENEW), Bhutan

Teacher Training – Quality Education (TTQE) – Our Flagship Program

Our Quality Education Program has been described as one of the most ambitious in rural Nepal. We are well on the way to improving the educational outcomes in 300 schools, boosting skills of over 1,600 teachers and providing a better education for over 40,000 children in the impoverished districts of the Solu Khumbu (Everest) region, a world away from the popular trekking trails.

Our program delivers a series of workshops to improve the training of primary school teachers and introduce the concept of child friendly teaching methods.

Our 15-year program continues to go from strength to strength. We are currently entering the 8th year of the program and are now focused on the Nele district of Solu Khumbu. As with all the districts in the south of the Solu Khumbu, there is a dire need for educational support – literacy and attendance rates are low, and the schools poorly resourced.

Promoting the true value of education is integral to the success of the TTQE program. We work with the wider community – local community groups and parents and teachers associations – with year round workshops as well as Child Clubs to help children appreciate their rights and role in the educational process.

Above all the Foundation recognises that quality education empowers children to achieve their full potential. We are committed to a sustainable program not only through regular community support and liaison with the district authorities, but also with our innovative Key Teacher workshops that train the most talented teachers to pass on their skills to their fellow teachers.

The Foundation also provides resources to schools where even the provision of basic textbooks and teaching aids is considered a luxury.

The regular reports from the TTQE program leave little doubt that we are on the right track. In December 2011 we conducted a comprehensive monitoring and evaluation report, which demonstrated that teaching standards are improving, attendance rates (particularly for girls) are showing a remarkable increase and overall education outcomes are improving. With your help, we are on the right track.

On the ground our program is managed by our dedicated project partners REED (Rural Education & Environment Development), a Nepalese NGO based in Kathmandu who have worked with Jim from the outset.

The Teacher Training – Quality Education Team

The TTQE program is directed by our Program Co-ordinator Jim Strang who was instrumental in 1998 in establishing the teacher training program run by Sir Edmund Hillary's Himalayan Trust.

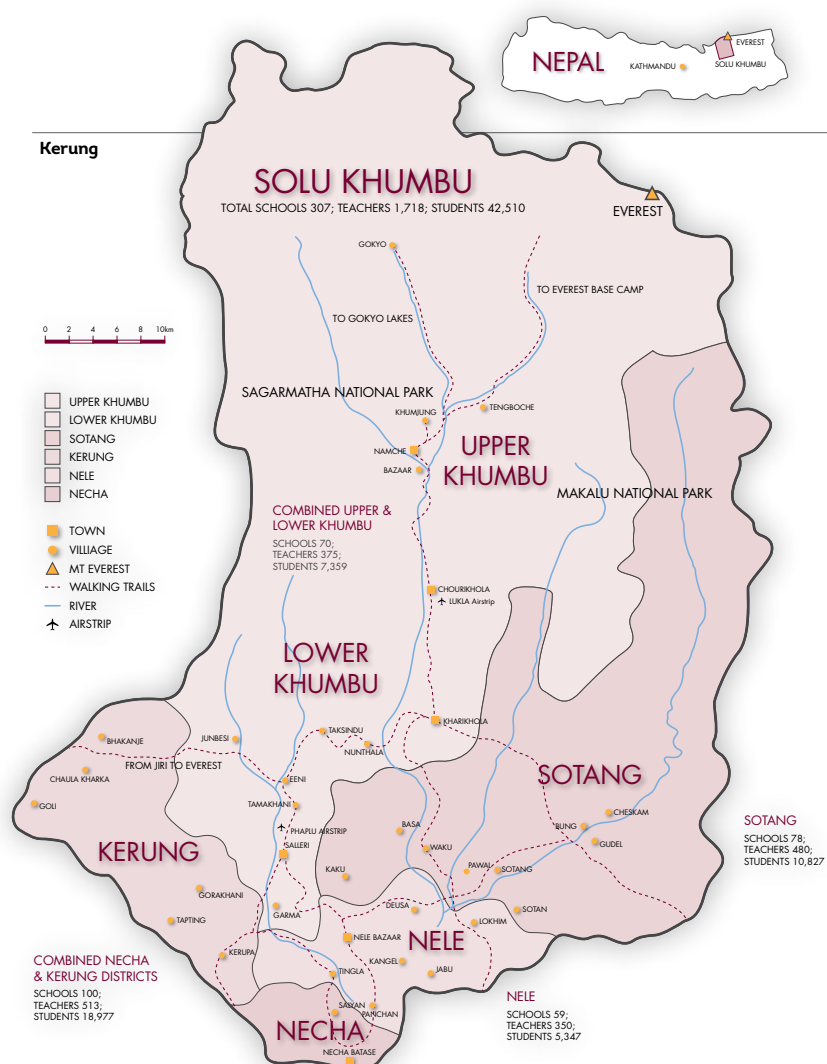

A further dimension to the program is the valued contribution of a select team of volunteer teachers from Australia and New Zealand who work with REED in the field.

The districts in the Solu Khumbu where we implement our program provide clear indication of poverty and the absence of educational opportunity – conditions that are in many ways similar to the Upper Khumbu (Everest region) where Sir Edmund Hillary's Himalayan Trust first commenced work fifty years ago.

Chairman's Review

The Australian Himalayan Foundation has always been a “people” organisation. We exist to support the people of the Himalaya; we have always relied primarily on grassroots community fundraising; and through our nine years of highly successful project operations, our relations with Himalayan countries such as Nepal have truly been centred on people-to-people links.

Accordingly, what comes from and happens to “AHF” people greatly affects us, and 2011-2012 was a year of several terrific highs – including some operational and developmental triumphs – and regrettably a deep low, with the death of AHF Director Lincoln Hall.

In early 2012, we succeeded in our application for Base Accreditation with AusAID. This is a major milestone for the Foundation, achieved through the amazing work of Garry Weare, Debbie Dukes and Janine Constantine – and the support of our donors. (See Garry's Program Review P.8)

That Accreditation also acknowledged our growing capacity, and 2011-2012 ended on a very high note with the appointment of Carolyn Hamer-Smith as the Foundation's first General Manager. We are very proud of how much we had been able to achieve with such a small paid administration, but our growth had also made that unsustainable, and Carolyn will be an enormous boost for the Foundation as full-time GM. Of course, we owe an enormous debt of gratitude to Garry and Debbie, for their many years as the “part-time” (monstrously over-worked) employees.

Another high for us in 2011-2012 was the terrific increase in funds raised. In a year in which many such organisations “felt the pinch” of corporate austerity, our supporters remained true – and indeed more came on board – and we thank them all very much. Donations and supporter contributions rose 69% to $440,000. Of course, we want to continue increasing revenue, as our priority remains the providing of the maximum possible benefit to the Himalayan communities in greatest need, on a cost-effective, sustainable basis.

Our funds and our ability to gain community support was also boosted, in August 2011, with the establishment of the partnership with Kathmandu (and its Summit Club) as Project Sponsor – and I'd particularly like to thank the Kathmandu team: Paul Stern and Jo Greenlees, and Sir James Strong and Peter Halkett, for their commitment and drive.

I also want to thank our new major project donors, the ACME Foundation, Perpetual Philanthropic (the Margaret Dawbarn Foundation) and the Jeanette & Peter Young Foundation. And also WorldNomads.com; Bruce and Heather McNair; Sue Badyari and World Expeditions, Heath Francis, Heather McNeice; Dick Estens and Roger Butler; Graham Burgess; and Sophie Yates, for their invaluable efforts.

On March 20, 2012, our great friend, founding AHF Director Lincoln Hall, died, aged 56. He was a brilliant writer, a superb mountaineer, and a wonderfully compassionate, caring humanitarian. We will miss Lincoln, and his great work, humour and character, so much. And we will always keep striving to help the people of the Himalaya, on his behalf.

On behalf of all Directors, I thank everyone for their support, and we look forward to another successful year in 2012-13.

Simon Balderstone
Chairman

Program Review

It has been a very successful twelve months for the Foundation. We have not only significantly increased our level of support from the community, but we have been able to direct those increased funds to our projects in the Himalaya. One of our highest priorities is ensuring that your funds are spent effectively and efficiently.

In June 2012 we received confirmation from AusAID that the Foundation was successful in its application for accreditation. The application, which took well over two years, required the Foundation to ensure that all our policies and those of our overseas project partners were of the highest level and accountability, and that we had achieved visible outcomes with our donors' dollars. We passed this process with flying colours, and we are now the smallest overseas aid agency (in terms of staffing) to have achieved accreditation by the Australian Government.

We will now receive a level of government funding that will provide stability and enable us to make long term plans for the future. This doesn't mean that we don't continue to need your support – we still need your assistance and generosity to continue to expand our programs.

It all augurs well for improving the educational outcomes in the Solu Khumbu as we implement our 12-year (2008 to 2020) program. There are of course challenges – getting marginalised children to attend school is high on the Foundation's list of priorities, and a new scholarship program is being initiated this year to assist children of the poorest families as well as children with disabilities.

Naturally the question arises (as it does in any developing country) as to how the children will benefit with access to quality education. It is one that the Foundation intends to address with a long-term program for vocational training that will focus on ensuring the skills and talents of the children are retained in the Solu Khumbu.

Sustainable development is also integral to our Zanskar Primary Health Care and our Cancer Screening and Prevention program. Both innovative programs have made significant progress in the last year. The Zanskar program is in its 7th year of operation and is now providing employment to female amchi (local health practitioners) who have successfully completed an intensive health care course in Dharamsala, Northern India.

Our other programs, including support for the endangered snow leopard in upper Solu Khumbu; our program with the Australian Tibetan Society to support Tibetans living in exile in the Indian Himalaya, as well as our scholarship program for girls in rural Bhutan and Nepal have also received commendable reports as the Foundation increases its support throughout the Himalayan region.

Garry Weare
Executive Director

Trekking in the Himalaya provides an unrivalled opportunity to contribute to our vital programs. We also offer a number of fundraising treks which include visits to our programs. We are thrilled that in the past year so many trekkers and travellers are taking up the challenge of raising funds through sponsorship for our programs in Nepal, India and Bhutan.

AusAID Accreditation

The Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID) is the Australian Government agency responsible for managing Australia's overseas aid program.

The AusAID accreditation process provides AusAID and the Australian public with confidence that where the Australian Government provides grants to Australian NGOs to implement their own aid and development programs, it is funding professional, well-managed, community-based organisations capable of delivering good development outcomes.

As a newly-accredited agency, the Australian Himalayan Foundation was required to demonstrate that all relevant financial and program policies and procedures were in place and adhered to when providing funds to our in-country partners. These included acquittals, audits (in Australia and overseas) and monitoring and evaluation reports. In addition the Foundation was obliged to develop stringent risk assessment guidelines and policies, and provide evidence of co-operation agreements with relevant statutory authorities in the countries where programs are implemented.

Complaints Policy

The Australian Himalayan Foundation is a member of the Australian Council for International Development (ACFID) and a Signatory to the ACFID Code of Conduct, which is a voluntary, self-regulatory code of good practice. Information about how to make a complaint can be found at www.acfid.asn.au

The Foundation has a process in place for handling any complaints. Please direct your complaint to Garry Weare (Director) on 02 9438 1822 or email info@australianhimalayanfoundation.org.au
